Short summary

- The teacher reads Matthew 19:1-12. Jesus leaves Galilee for the region of Judea beyond the Jordan. Pharisees test Him: is it lawful to divorce a wife for any reason at all? He answers from creation, male and female, one flesh: what God has joined together, let no man separate. Moses permitted divorce because of hardness of heart; whoever divorces except for sexual immorality and marries another commits adultery. The disciples conclude it is better not to marry, and Jesus speaks of eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom.
- Jesus is heading to Jerusalem, and the Pharisees are already plotting (12:14). The question may be a trap: Herod Antipas had married his brother's wife Herodias and killed John the Baptist for speaking against it, not far from where Jesus stands.
- The question is really about the first-century debate over 'some indecency' in Deuteronomy 24:1. The school of Shammai allowed divorce only for unchastity; the school of Hillel allowed it for almost any reason. Jesus agrees with the stricter reading, but grounds marriage in Genesis 1 and 2, before Sinai.
- Neither Deuteronomy 24 nor Exodus 21:10-11 commands divorce; they regulate a situation already happening and protect the wife. 'Hardness of heart' echoes Psalm 95, where Israel did not know God's ways.
- The lesson: those who truly seek to know God will properly interpret His commandments. Proper motivation guides proper interpretation. The Pharisees read Torah to know Torah; read it to know God (Hosea 6:6; Jeremiah 9:23-24).

Go back further

Jesus answers a question about Moses by going back before Moses, to creation. The teacher calls it reading from the earliest word: what God did 'from the beginning' (19:4, 8) sets the frame for what Moses later permitted.

The video reads from another English translation. Quotations on this page are from the LSB.

For any reason at all?

A trap, a debate over Deuteronomy 24, and what Moses actually said.

MATTHEW 19:3; 14:3-4

A question with a trap?

THE PHARISEES · MATTHEW 19:3

“And some Pharisees came to Jesus, testing Him and saying, “Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for any reason at all?””

MATTHEW · MATTHEW 14:3

“For when Herod had John arrested, he bound him and put him in prison because of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip.”

FROM THE VIDEO Matthew does not say they wanted a charge, as in John 8:6, but we know they were conspiring to destroy Him (12:14). The question is probably not innocent. Matthew 12:14

FROM THE VIDEO Perhaps they hoped to embroil Jesus in Herod's drama. John was imprisoned and beheaded not far from where Jesus now stands.

'Some indecency'

📜 DEUTERONOMY 24:1 (LSB)

THE DEBATE

““If a man takes a wife and marries her, and it happens that she finds no favor in his eyes because he has found some indecency in her, and he writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out from his house,”

FROM THE VIDEO In the Hebrew the phrase can be read 'a thing of nakedness,' sexual immorality, or 'a naked thing,' anything out of order in the marriage. Two first-century schools took the two sides.

BACKGROUND The Mishnah records it: 'Beit Shammai say: A man may not divorce his wife unless he finds out about her having engaged in a matter of forbidden sexual intercourse' (Mishnah Gittin 9:10).

◆ Factbook: Book of Deuteronomy ◆ Factbook: Divorce ◆ Factbook: Mishnah

MISHNAH GITTIN 9:10

A burned dish

FROM THE VIDEO Hillel put weight on 'she finds no favor in his eyes' and let the husband define what was out of order, so divorce could follow for the silliest of reasons, like a bad meal.

BACKGROUND The Mishnah: 'Beit Hillel say: He may divorce her even due to a minor issue, e.g., because she burned or over-salted his dish' (Mishnah Gittin 9:10). It credits the 'better looking' reason to Rabbi Akiva: 'even if he found another woman who is better looking than her' (Mishnah Gittin 9:10).

DEUTERONOMY 24:4; EXODUS 21:10-11

No command to divorce

DEUTERONOMY · DEUTERONOMY 24:4

“then her former husband who sent her away is not allowed to take her again to be his wife, since she has been defiled; for that is an abomination before Yahweh, and you shall not bring sin on the land which Yahweh your God gives you as an inheritance.”

EXODUS · EXODUS 21:11

“And if he will not do these three things for her, then she shall go out for nothing, without payment of money.”

FROM THE VIDEO These are the two main passages rabbis looked to on divorce. Neither commands men to divorce their wives. They acknowledge it is already happening and deal with a related issue: the wife's protection.

FROM THE VIDEO So when the Pharisees ask why Moses 'commanded' a certificate (19:7), Jesus answers that he 'permitted' it (19:8). Moses gave no command to divorce. Matthew 19:7

GENESIS 2 · GENESIS 2:24

“Therefore a man shall leave his father and his mother, and cleave to his wife; and they shall become one flesh.”

God has joined together

🤝 MATTHEW 19:6 (LSB)

THREE PERSONS

“So they are no longer two, but one flesh. What therefore God has joined together, let no man separate.””

FROM THE VIDEO Marriage is greater than an agreement between two people: husband, wife and the Lord. To divorce inappropriately is to violate an agreement with God.

FROM THE VIDEO It is not the pastor who joins people in marriage; whoever officiates merely affirms what God is doing. Jesus also puts the onus on husbands, not wives (19:8-9).

MATTHEW 19:8; PSALM 95:8-10

Hardness of heart

JESUS · MATTHEW 19:8

PSALM 95 · PSALMS 95:10

“For forty years I loathed that generation, / And said they are a people who wander in their heart, / And they do not know My ways.”

FROM THE VIDEO The phrase is probably an allusion to Psalm 95:8-11: 'Do not harden your hearts, as at Meribah' (Psalms 95:8), when Israel tested God in the wilderness and did not know His ways. Psalms 95:8

FROM THE VIDEO Isn't that what the Pharisees are doing now, testing Jesus? The commands at Sinai were meant to reform the practice of divorce over time.

SERMON ON THE MOUNT · MATTHEW 5:32

“but I say to you that everyone who divorces his wife, except for the reason of sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery; and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.”

FROM THE VIDEO The only permission Jesus allows is porneia, sexual immorality, recalling the Sermon on the Mount. It is a broad term, but it narrowed things considerably for first-century Jews.

FROM THE VIDEO The disciples struggle with the stricter view. Jesus says in so many words: if you have a problem with the sacredness and finality of marriage, don't get married. Be a eunuch for the sake of God's kingdom.

FROM THE VIDEO In the first century there were two kinds of eunuchs: those born without reproductive parts, and those castrated to serve as royal or government officials.

HOSEA · HOSEA 6:6

“For I delight in lovingkindness rather than sacrifice, / And in the knowledge of God rather than burnt offerings.”

THE LESSON

Proper motivation guides proper interpretation

FROM THE VIDEO Those who truly seek to know God will properly interpret His commandments, because they understand the heart behind them. Those who seek only to know His commandments will often misinterpret them.

FROM THE VIDEO The teacher describes studying theology early on to know what God's word said, and later learning from a mentor to read it to know God. The result is greater intimacy with the Lord and a deeper love for Him.

Historical and cultural background

ESTABLISHED Facts most interpreters agree on

Divorce in the first century

A husband could divorce by giving a certificate; a wife generally could not initiate. The Mishnah records three views on Deuteronomy 24:1: Shammai's (only sexual misconduct), Hillel's (even a burned dish) and Rabbi Akiva's (even finding someone better looking) (Mishnah Gittin 9:10, William Davidson edition, CC BY-NC, via Sefaria).

Judea beyond the Jordan

Jesus' route south likely ran down the east side of the Jordan through Perea, avoiding Samaria, then crossed near Jericho. Perea was ruled by Herod Antipas, who held John at Machaerus according to Josephus (Antiquities 18.5.2).

Eunuchs at court

Royal courts used eunuchs as officials, like the Ethiopian treasurer in Acts 8:27. The Torah barred them from the assembly (Deuteronomy 23:1), but Isaiah 56:3-5 promises them 'a name better than that of sons and daughters.'

DEBATED Where scholars differ

What does 'except for sexual immorality' allow?

Some read porneia as adultery, allowing divorce and remarriage; others as unlawful marriages (Leviticus 18) or betrothal unfaithfulness. Mark and Luke give no exception (Mark 10:11-12; Luke 16:18).

Did Jesus side with Shammai?

His exception resembles Shammai's view, but He grounds marriage in creation and calls remarriage adultery, going beyond either school.

Eunuchs for the kingdom

Most read 19:12 of voluntary celibacy for the kingdom's sake (compare 1 Corinthians 7:7). Origen was said to have taken it literally, which the church rejected.

CAREFUL READING Small slips in the video

Small slips worth knowing (offered gently; the video's main points stand):

- Mark's account runs to Mark 10:12, not 10:11; verse 12 adds the case of a wife who divorces her husband.
- The video attributes 'preferred another woman' to Hillel. The Mishnah credits that view to Rabbi Akiva; Beit Hillel's example is a burned or over-salted dish (Gittin 9:10).
- The 'more original the weightier' rule is not given a source in the video. Jesus' appeal to creation is clear in the text either way.
- Exodus 21:10-11 concerns a slave-wife (21:7-11); the LSB reads 'another woman.'
- The idea that Israel took an ungodly view of divorce 'in Egyptian captivity' is the video's suggestion, not something the text says.

- The captions write 'Shamai,' 'Shmai,' 'Shmama' and 'Shemi' for Shammai, 'Hel' and 'Hella' for Hillel, 'Unix' for eunuchs, 'Herodiius' for Herodias, 'Meabbah' and 'Massa' for Meribah and Massah, and 'antiene' for ante-Nicene.

The lesson, stated plainly: those who truly seek to know God will properly interpret His commandments, because they understand the heart behind them. Proper motivation guides proper interpretation. The teacher recalls studying theology, church history and doctrine as a young believer without appreciating what broke God's heart or truly pleased Him, until a mentor taught him to read the Bible first of all to know God.
